Update from the National Trust on our financial review

We can now confirm that we've been able to almost halve the number of proposed compulsory job losses at the charity.

We proposed making almost 1,200 compulsory redundancies. However, after considering more than 14,500 pieces of feedback from staff, volunteers and Supporter Groups during the 45-day consultation, we're now making 514 compulsory redundancies and we've also accepted 782 voluntary redundancies. These will help us to save £100m to support our conservation work each year.

Following the wide-ranging consultation, a number of changes have been made to the original proposals, including retaining roles focused on helping children learn, keeping curation specialists across England, Wales and Northern Ireland, increasing buildings maintenance roles, and introducing new specialist roles for land use, soils and carbon reduction. There have also been changes in other areas covering marketing, retail, holidays, IT, legal and the let estate.

Despite retaining these roles, it's with deep sadness that we still have to make any redundancies. This is a very painful time for so many organisations, businesses and communities. And we're well aware that the Trust is only as strong as it is because of its people – our staff, volunteers and supporters.

However, in making these changes now, we're confident we'll be well-placed to face the challenges ahead, protecting the places that visitors love and nature needs, and ensuring our conservation work continues long into the future.

In addition to staff redundancies, we've confirmed that we'll save £41m from non-pay budget cuts, including reducing travel and office costs. We've also already announced we're stopping or deferring £124m of projects, and we've introduced a recruitment freeze to reduce our staff costs. To help us get through the short-term impacts of the crisis we also drew on the Bank of England's emergency coronavirus loan scheme and we're grateful for support from some rescue and stimulus packages being offered by the government.

While the UK continues its fight to manage coronavirus and while government restrictions remain in place, we'll continue to open as many places as possible. Already we've welcomed more than five million visitors to the places that we care for since we began reopening in May.

The places and things the National Trust cares for are needed now more than ever and will continue to play an important role as our nations recuperate and recover their spirit and wellbeing. Our focus will remain on the benefit we deliver to people, every day – bringing them closer to nature, beauty and history. We must now focus on emerging from this crisis in a strong position.

As a National Trust Supporter Group committee member, I wanted to ensure you received this news directly. Thank you for your ongoing support.

Hilary McGrady, Director General

Spring 2021 Greetings from the Committee

It seems more appropriate than ever at this time to truly wish everyone “A Happy New Year!” as we look forward to more normal and safer times, however near or far off they may be. So, as promised, here is our new Spring 2021 Newsletter and, as before, we hope it finds you, your families and friends keeping safe and well.

The need for prudence and safety is still confining RNTA in limbo for the time being, and prospects for visits this coming summer seem rather doubtful. As we said in our interim November News Bulletin, we are aiming to restart fully in October, and all the meetings and talks for the autumn have been booked and confirmed.

We shall of course keep you up to date before then with any further developments, especially via the excellent RNTA website. In the meantime, all of you, once again, have our best wishes and hopes that we all continue to keep safe and well.

The RNTA Committee

Kate Tennant

We have learnt the sad news that Kate has died from the cancer she'd been treated for over several years. Many will remember her always cheerful chat as the Shop Manager which she took over in 2007.

Kate made changes to the range of things sold and introduced the jigsaws and second hand books which acted as an exchange; people bringing them back for resale. Over the years she increased the revenue of the shop – not least through the raffles that became a regular feature. We will all miss her.

It was a real family involvement with both Malcolm and their son, Matt, giving us sterling work. Our thoughts are with them.

IF YOU HAVEN'T ALREADY GIVEN YOUR EMAIL ADDRESS PLEASE LET US HAVE YOUR DETAILS

It would enable us to make contact quickly if things change

The Data Base

All personal information held by RNTA is held in a secure encrypted database. Member details will only be exchanged between committee members for necessary administrative purposes and when done so, will always be in an encrypted file, even if only containing members names.

In addition, when we send an email to members please also be reassured that we use a software package so that each email will be individually addressed. This ensures that only you will see your email address in any email we send.

Membership News

Introducing Adrian Futter, our new Membership Secretary

As Adrian took on the position just before the great lockdown, he hasn't had an opportunity to meet members in his new role so we've persuaded him to write something about himself.

I was born and brought up in a small town in Lincolnshire which I left at the age of eighteen to study for an engineering degree at Imperial College in London. After graduation, I worked for almost 4 years in Coventry before moving to Rugby in 1976 to work at GEC in Boughton Road. While I remained essentially in the same job, the company changed name and owners several times (including Cegelec, Alstom & Converteam) until becoming GE a few years before I retired in 2015.

I have lived in Rugby for 44 years, in just two different houses, first in Hillmorton and now in Bilton.

The most interesting period of my working life was in the 1980s when I spent several years working abroad in Brazil and Australia. The outcome of my period in Brazil was that I met and married a local girl who came back to England with me to set up home in Rugby. Over the last 35 years I have visited Brazil about twenty times, both for work and to visit my wife's family and as a result I speak Portuguese fairly fluently, if not very correctly. Sadly, after 30 years of marriage, I lost my wife to breast cancer in 2018. I have one daughter who is now 30 years old and lives in London.

In retirement I try to keep myself active. I've become a keen volunteer at both of the Myton Hospice shops in town and help there three times a week. At home I get a lot of pleasure from playing the piano (in this respect it may be as well that I live alone as others may not share this pleasure!).

I have been a member of RNTA for only two years but when the committee were looking for a membership secretary I thought it was something that would interest me while making a small contribution to the running of the organization. My main duties involve keeping the membership database up to date with new members, with changes to details (address, email address, phone number etc.) and recording the payment of annual subscriptions.

Adrian

Currently we have a total membership of 283 of which 94% have paid for 2020/21. Inevitably we've had a few cancellations.

Minutes of the 33rd Annual General Meeting held in the Dunchurch Village Hall on 16th January 2020 at 2.30pm

George Brunavs, Vice Chair, took the chair and opened the meeting by welcoming 80 Association Members. George requested members to collect the spring 2020 newsletters from the table in the entrance lobby before the AGM as they contained the agenda and summary of the accounts

1. Apologies had been received Dave and Sue Knapp, Audrey Carbury, Janice and John Snell.
2. Minutes of the 32nd Annual General Meeting were printed in the Autumn Newsletter and were not read out at this AGM.

Isobel Palmer proposed that the minutes be approved, seconded by Val Brunavs and George Brunavs signed them as a true record.

3. There were no Matters Arising
- 4 Treasurer's Report

The Secretary, Anne Turner, on behalf of the Treasurer gave the following report:

A summary of the Association's accounts for 2018/19 is included in the Spring Newsletter. A more detailed income and expenditure account for the year is available on request.

The net surplus for the year totalled £3,731, an increase of £1,012 on the previous year. This was achieved by various means, including combining the admission fee and refreshment charge at meetings and by increasing the funds raised through raffles, sales and recycling. There was also a 25% increase in attendance at meetings.

Total income from the visits programme also increased quite significantly as a result of an increase in participation rates and a careful monitoring of costs by the trip organiser.

Membership numbers continued to hold up well and we welcomed a number of new members to the Association during the year.

As at the 30th September 2019 the total reserves of the Association stood at £8,514.75. This figure takes into account donations totalling £6,960 made during the year to Canons Ashby, Farnborough Hall, Packwood House and Stoneycote Cottage. Further details can be found on the website

In addition to keeping a careful watch on expenditure, the Committee will continue to consider other forms of fund raising and any ideas or suggestions that you may have are most welcome. On this basis the annual subscription rates of £10 for an individual and £15 for couples will remain the same for 2020/21.

If there are any questions or points that require clarification, I will respond to them on my return.

Tony Birch proposed that the Treasurer's report be approved, seconded by Rona Townsend

5 Committee Report

The Vice Chair gave the following committee report:

We are very pleased to report another very successful year at the Rugby National Trust Association, with consistently high attendances at our talks, continuing healthy finances, and a gratifyingly steady influx of new members, to whom we extend our warmest welcome.

Our talks continue to be very popular, highlights from 2019 being "The King under the Car Park", "Discovering the Spirit of Place at Packwood", "The History of the Willans Works in Rugby", and "The English Civil War".

Many thanks go again to all involved in organising and participating in our 2019 Summer visits, which as always were much enjoyed by everyone, as was the very good Christmas Lunch at Rockingham Castle. The new 2020 Spring Newsletter and our website have full details of next summer's trips.

We were especially pleased to be able to give substantial donations of £1000 to Packwood for new gardening equipment and £3500 to Canons Ashby for long overdue replacement chairs and tables for visitors.

As this new year begins, we should like to give our warmest and heartfelt thanks to Pat Downton, who is standing down as our Membership Secretary, in which role she worked tirelessly, valiantly and efficiently for many years.

Once again, we recommend everyone to use our excellent website, and to urge family and friends to visit it to be in touch with everything that is going on at Rugby National Trust, especially for any up-to-date news. Please always spread the word about us.

And, as ever, any assistance from members to help with Committee work, in whatever small way, is very welcome – please talk to any Committee member to find out more.

Wishing everyone a Happy New Year and looking forward to an enjoyable and successful 2020 at RNTA.

Brian Williamson proposed that the Committee report be approved, seconded by Karen Railton

6 Election of Officers and Committee

George Brunavs advised the membership, that for the election or re-election of the committee for 2020, some of the people standing for re-election have already served for a full 8 years. According to our constitution, after 8 years, in order to authorise their re-election, we require signatures from at least 10 of the main RNTA membership, in order to relax the constitution rule which specifies that people need to stand down for at least one year before being eligible for re-election.

George was pleased to report that 10 members had signed the form, at the start of the AGM, in order to relax this clause for the year 2020.

Therefore, the following members of the committee offered themselves for election or re-election and the following were proposed:

Chairman:	Vacant
Secretary:	Anne Turner
Treasurer:	David Knapp
Membership Secretary:	Vacant
Dep. Mem. Secretary	Vacant
Bookings Secretary:	Pamela Southern
Visit Co-ordinator:	Pauline Springett
Web Editor:	Michael Turner
Publicity Officer:	Vacant
Newsletter Editor:	Isobel Palmer
Sales Table:	Kate/Malcolm Tennant
Meetings Sec/Vice Chair :	George Brunavs

Martin Stammers proposed that the above members be elected to serve on the committee for the year 2020, seconded by Alastair Railton.

7. *Appointment of Independent Examiner

The Secretary, on behalf of the treasurer David Knapp advised that Ian Stimson, who was appointed as Independent Examiner for 2019, had agreed to examine the accounts again for 2020

Michael Turner proposed that his appointment be approved,
seconded by Kate Tennant

8. *Subscriptions

George Brunavs reiterated to the members present that subscriptions would remain unchanged for a further year.

Michael Turner proposed that subscriptions remain as agreed,
seconded by Kate Tennant

9 *Any Other Business

George Brunavs, on behalf of the RNTA committee, proposed that from 2020 onwards, membership of RNTA should be open to anyone, whether they are members of the main National Trust or not. George advised that the proposal will be further discussed and a vote held at an Extraordinary General Meeting to be held at the start of the scheduled meeting on 6th February 2020. Martin Stammers requested confirmation that this change is supported by the National Trust. Anne Turner confirmed that an email trail is available confirming this support.

10 *Date of the Next Annual General Meeting

The 34th Annual General Meeting will be held on Thursday 21st January 2021 at 2:30 pm at Dunchurch Village Hall.

Editor's Note

The 34th AGM has been postponed and the current committee will continue in post until further notice.

TREASURER'S REPORT 2019/20

Despite it having been an increasingly difficult year for everyone involved, the accounts for 2019/20 show a net surplus for the year of £2,312.76, compared with a surplus of £3,731.68 for the previous year. Up until the curtailment of the talks programme in March it had been most encouraging to see a significant increase in attendance at both afternoon and evening meetings with an average of 80 at each meeting. In addition, membership numbers continued to hold up well and we welcomed a number of new members to the Association. The only visit that was possible during the year was the annual Christmas lunch at Rockingham Castle. The enforced cancellation of the Summer programme of visits resulted in a loss of revenue of approximately £1,500.

As at 30th September 2020 the total financial reserves of the Association stood at £10,827.51, an increase of £2,312.76 on the previous year. However, no donations were made to local properties but it is anticipated that a number of donations will be made shortly. We will, of course, continue to keep you informed by means of the Newsletter and via our website

www.rugbynationaltrust.org

In these difficult and uncertain times your support is needed more than ever and we are most grateful for your continued membership, despite the fact that, for the time being at least, we are unable to provide you with our customary programme of talks and visits.

It has been agreed by the Committee that the current subscription rates of £10 for an individual and £15 for couples will remain the same for 2021/22. We sincerely hope that 'normal service' will be resumed as soon as possible but, in the meantime, we will continue to pursue other areas of fund raising as appropriate. Any ideas or suggestions that you may have will be most welcome.

Finally, thanks once again go to Ian Stimson for examining, and approving, the accounts and bank records of the Association. If any member would like a copy of the full Balance Sheet, please do not hesitate to contact me.

David Knapp
Honorary Treasurer

Upton House during Covid-19

The gardens have been open since June with one way flow and the highlight for me has been the Aster border – spectacular. With lockdown, there has only been Heather, the Head Gardener, working until recently so the annual bedding is absent but the view of the Mirror Pond is, as always, beautiful. Normally there are 6 gardeners plus volunteers so you can imagine the impossibility of her workload.

We have new opening hours and, as part of Covid-19 precautions, there are many changes. Only part of the house is open with a one way system to ensure social distancing. At present the Dining room and first floor are closed with the need to ensure safety and some paintings have been taken down. All have been removed in the Picture Gallery Passage but there are still wonderful paintings and the porcelain collection to see elsewhere.

A bonus of the one way flow is that visitors leave the house through the cellars – part of the original Tudor building and they can see the large Safe Door installed in 1940 when Viscount Bearsted moved his personal bank from London for the duration of the Second World War. Visitors can also see the original front door portico with Tudor roses carved in each upper quadrant.

The most difficult task for our manager, Emily, is implementing the NT Reset Programme. The pandemic and resultant lockdown have severely cut the Trust's income and the senior management has decided redundancies must be made. This is a very stressful and unpleasant duty to carry out.

It has been a very positive experience to welcome visitors back to Upton. The opportunity to tell them about the house, its contents and history of the Bearsted family is very rewarding.

Our visitors have all expressed delight in being able to see the house and collection. Many have said they want to come back again.

Sadly, Upton closed again with lockdown 2 but we're hoping that it will open again when we move out of tier 3.

Canons Ashby Newts-flash

Behind the scenes, the garden team are working incredibly hard to get the garden looking splendid after this years' lockdown, when we could no longer ask volunteers to come in and help. The majority of the volunteer team are now back pruning, weeding and harvesting, as well as growing new plants for next year's bedding. Recently they had a very pleasant surprise in their growing and potting area: Great Crested Newts hiding under the seed trays! Although we had had occasional reports of "dark lizards" in that area recently, no one had identified them before. There is a small pond nearby and plenty of insects to eat, as well as lots of shade and damp places to hide. We don't use slug pellets or similar dangerous pesticides so they will have plenty of safe food to eat. We hope they'll settle in and stay for a long time.

As well as newts, hedgehogs have moved in. There are little muddy hedgehog footprints and hedgehog poo although no live sightings yet.

During the pandemic the birds really thrived at Canons Ashby. Blackcaps, which normally keep away from humans, were found to be nesting right next to the path in the lower garden. In the annual bird box clean, in autumn, it was shown that many of our nest boxes were in use this year, including my favourite - the recycled walking boot which was the home to a clutch of robins. The garden team clean out the nest boxes annually to keep them free of fleas and mites: this means they are a hygienic and comfortable place for birds to shelter in the winter, if needed, and then to build a fresh nest for the breeding season. Hopefully we'll have plenty of little bird families next year too.

It's lovely to be back sending you updates again. The majority of the team are now back on site and almost all parts of the site are now open with special precautions to keep the visitors and team safe.

All the information about what you can see at Canons Ashby, and how to book a ticket, can be found on our website

Dipping in to our memories

When Canons Ashby closed its doors in March, we volunteers were suddenly missing our regular trips there. Many of us turned our attention to projects of various types. This year we were celebrating the NT's 125 year birthday and it was 40 years since Canons Ashby was given to the NT both celebrations halted!

Canons Ashby was to looking back over what had been achieved and the changes had taken place. As long serving room guides, the Dibbens and I had some knowledge to share:

I turned my attention to writing up the activities of the Tudor Group in which a lot of past RNTA members participated. To get my information, I went back through old diaries; looked at negatives of photos I had lost and then had reproduced when shops opened again; and I made contact with many who had taken part. It was lovely hearing from people I hadn't spoken to for years and exchanging memories. Ultimately, I had a solid report on the education of children at Canons Ashby. I had contributions from RNTA members Jean Dibben, Margaret Alderman and Aileen Membery, all in the photo taken when we invited the Association to be our guinea pigs!

April 2005 RNTA members—children again

Reminiscing with Ted Pearson, brought memories of some lectures, put on by the WEA at Canons Ashby, he attended along with Heather and the Gibsons. It transpired that Richard Dibben, on behalf of the WEA, had initiated them so both he and Ted have written up those recollections from both sides of their presentation. They will be submitted to Canons Ashby as part of the 40 year time line.

LECTURE PROGRAMME AUTUMN 2021

The Life and Work of Ernest Gimson

Thursday 7 October 2021

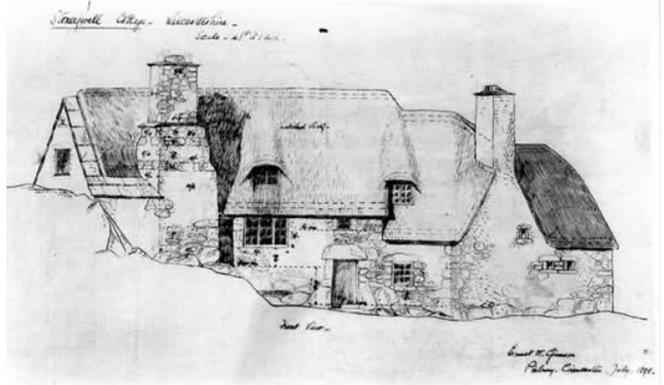

Dunchurch Village Hall 2.30pm

Speaker: Allan Tyler

In his classic Pioneers of Modern Design, the eminent art historian Nikolaus Pevsner described Ernest Gimson as “the greatest of the English architect-designers”.

Gimson is indeed now firmly established as one of the most influential designers of the Arts and Crafts Movement.

Allan Tyler is from the Leicester National Trust Association and will present an illustrated talk about Gimson’s life and work.

Mary Queen of Scots – the Captive Queen 1568-1587

Wednesday 20 October 2021

Dunchurch Village Hall 7.30pm

Speaker: David Templeman

David Templeman, Elizabethan historian and National speaker, came to us a few years ago with his knowledgeable and inspiring two talks about the life of Mary Stuart in captivity in England, and he now returns to us with an updated and revised edition of this enthralling story, tied in with his recent book on the same subject.

. Beguiled by Bridges

Thursday 4 November 2021

Dunchurch Village Hall 2.30pm

Speaker: Keith Holmes

Keith has presented a number of his outstanding photographic essays to us in recent years and, this time, he returns with a new and highly recommended talk, again compiled from his world-wide travels.

The Vasco Da Gama bridge over the Tagus near Lisbon

The Panama Canal (and more!)

Wednesday 17 November 2021

Dunchurch Village Hall 7.30pm

Speaker: Anthony Addams

Why was the Panama Canal built? Why did the French fail? How did the Americans succeed? Anthony Addams (a member of Rugby NTA) gives an illustrated talk on this and other canals.

“Light Fantastic” – One Thousand Years of Stained Glass

Thursday 2 December 2021

Dunchurch Village Hall 2.30pm

Speaker: Keith Cattell

Having given us excellent talks on “Victorian Architecture” and “English Castles” in previous years, Keith returns with another visually enthralling presentation.

Adventures on the High Seas

As we sailed out of Southampton on 3 January 2020 on our long awaited 99 day voyage around the world (or Western Circumnavigation) on board the P&O ship Arcadia, little did we realise what changes lay ahead for all of us.

For the first 6 weeks the itinerary progressed very much as planned with visits to Madeira, Barbados, Curacao, Guatemala, Mexico, California, Hawaii, Tahiti and New Zealand; the only cancellations being Samoa and Tonga due to a measles epidemic in that area of the Pacific. However, what was becoming increasingly apparent was the devastating impact that the spread of Covid-19 was having around the world. By the time we reached Australia it was obvious that all scheduled destinations in China and the Far East were now out of the question but, in a hastily revised itinerary, additional ports of call were added in Australia which, for us at least, was a real bonus as we had never visited that part of the world before.

Departing from Fremantle on 11 March the plan was to pick up our original itinerary visiting Sri Lanka, Dubai and Muscat and then on through the Suez Canal into the Mediterranean and home. However, this plan changed on an almost daily basis as one country after another closed it's borders until the ship had no alternative but to turn full circle and head south towards South Africa where a refuelling stop in Durban turned into a somewhat anxious 5 day wait at anchor offshore whilst the port authorities and government officials decided whether or not to allow us to dock. Eventually, and at considerable cost, agreement was reached and we were able to continue our journey around the southern tip of Africa towards Tenerife for another refuelling stop; this time at sea as ships were no longer being allowed to dock in any of the Canary Islands.

Eventually, after 31 days at sea, we arrived back at Southampton on 12 April as planned but, with full lockdown restrictions now in place, it was a very different country that we were returning to compared with the one we had left just over three months previously. The journey back to Rugby on a bank holiday Sunday along almost deserted roads and motorways was, to say the least, quite eerie.

Looking back on a what was a marvellous trip, we consider ourselves extremely fortunate to have had the opportunity to visit some amazing places, to meet some lovely people and to have experienced some wonderful landscapes and wildlife. At the same time, and most importantly of all, everyone on board remained extremely well looked after and virus free. We would quite happily have remained on board for another 99 days in our own little bubble.

David and Sue Knapp

Photos of the Month: Our Experiment in Social Gardening

What was to be done during lockdown? Being confined to the home is frustrating: having a garden engenders hope, it arouses curiosity about other people and their gardens and, with a growing interest in nature and wildlife, we thought why not bring these things together and create a photo exchange.

A small pilot scheme was launched in which people active in their gardens would photograph whatever was of interest and send in for collation and monthly distribution as a small attractive portfolio by email. The initial response was positive. So we approached about 35 people and asked if they wished to participate. Only one rejected the idea. Some were keen to contribute photographs each month, others just wished to have some cheer brought into their lives through attractive pictures of gardens and wildlife, and a few of the younger participants hoped to learn something about gardening.

Early on, a former colleague who is an excellent bird photographer, offered to contribute so we widened the scope of the project from plants to include wildlife. We regularly received excellent and varied photos, or, in one case the moors and country parks of Northumberland took the place of a personal garden.

Among the more unusual photos which have been shared were of the decorative green and yellow caterpillar of the large white butterfly, a rare hedgehog visitor and a mouse snapped inside a bird feeder. Regular observation produced many beautiful plants, shrubs and insects. It has been a privilege to see inside some private garden paradises.

As well as British contributions, we have had some spectacular photos from New Zealand.

Tony pruning a rose and Jill with her currant harvest

Has our experiment been worthwhile? We ourselves have enjoyed and learned from the experience and it has brought friends, acquaintances and relations together with a common purpose in truly dark times.
